

Terms and Conditions of Usage

By using “The Bagpipe Academy – Courses” site, you agree to the following Terms and Conditions:

- You will receive emails from The Bagpipe Academy.
- You won't share your account with other people for the purposes of their tuition. The course fees are intended to be reasonable, so please be fair in return.
- You accept that The Bagpipe Academy reserves the right to terminate any account.
- You will be respectful to administrators and users of the site, such as refraining from swearing or bullying.
- You understand there will be no refunds once a course fee is paid, unless in exceptional circumstances.
- You will respect the copyright of the materials presented on the site and not copy or reproduce these for any purpose other than your own personal reference. All course materials on this site are copyright and the intellectual property of The Bagpipe Academy.
- The courses are constructed by qualified teachers of the Great Highland Bagpipe. However, as all students are different, no warranty of student outcomes can be provided. Students use this site at their own risk.